BOTANIQ

CASTLE OF TURA

BY · BOTANIQ ·
COLLECTION

INTRODUCTION

AN EXTRAORDINARY HERITAGE

It is not only the Neo-Renaissance and Neo-Baroque elements that make the fairytale castle enchanting, but also the love story that can be felt in every corner of the building. It is namely Baron Sigmund Schossberger, a magnate and wholesaler of crops, who had the castle built for his wife.

Following the death of Sigmund's son, unfortunately the stormy years of history did not save the abandoned castle.

The story of the troubled castle became positive in 2016, when its complete renovation began, and the BOTANIQ Castle of Tura was reborn.

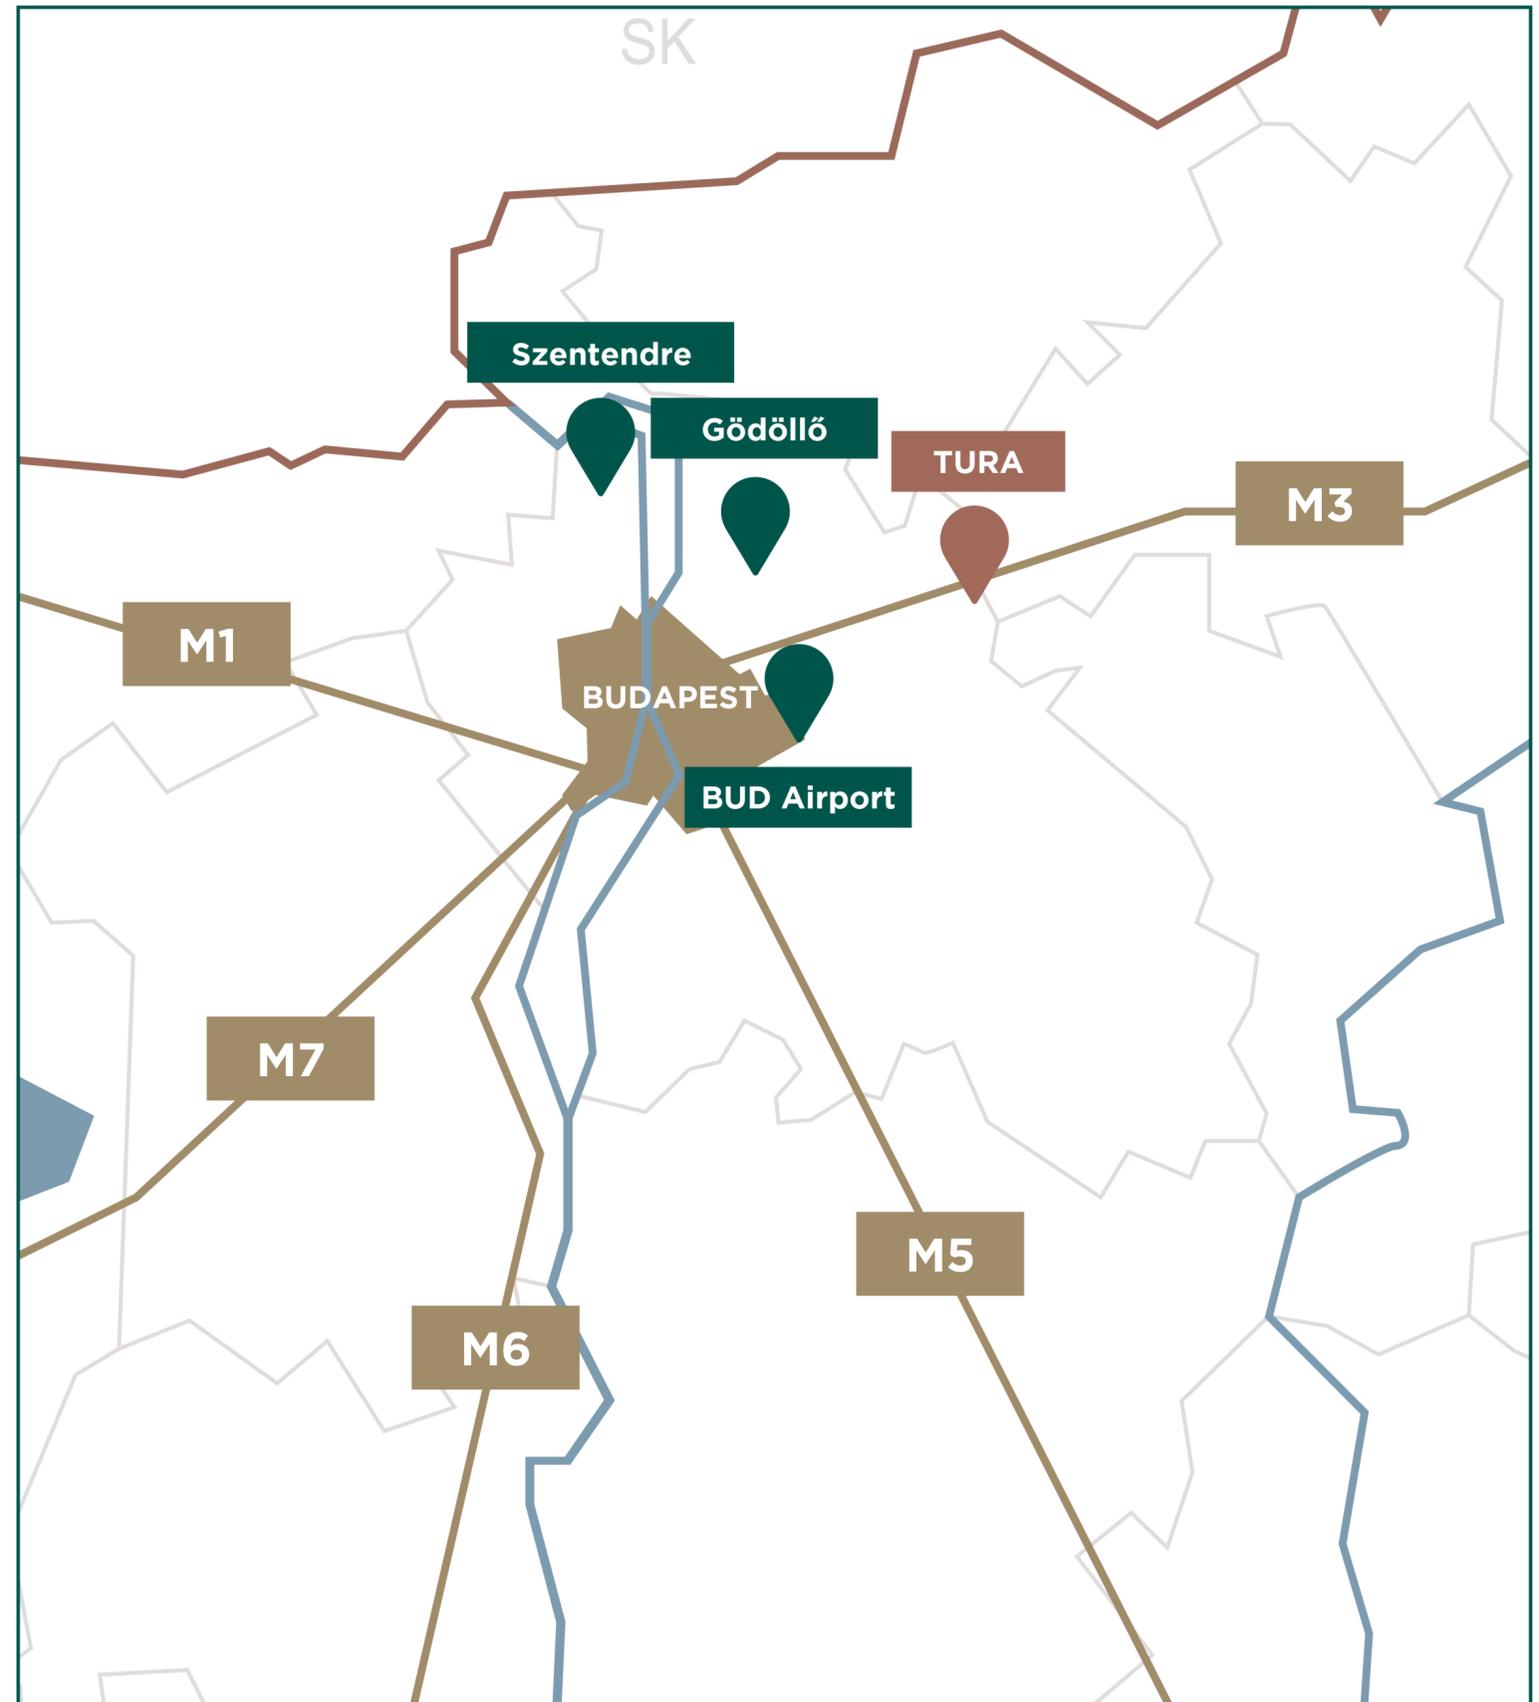

LOCATION

TURA

The town of 8000 inhabitants is located in Pest County, 50 km away from Budapest – in the valley of Galga – with strong folk roots and musical traditions. The area was owned by the Eszterházy Family until 1873, when it was bought by Sigmund Schossberger. Tura is located in the Valkó Forestry area, but Gödöllő Forestry is nearby as well. In these hunting areas, there are a total of three wild preserves.
